CATALINE

LUCIUS SERGIUS CATALINE was a well-known Roman citizen who invented the modern home-talent villain, although lacking the string mustache and chronic throat trouble of the latter. He was born of a patrician family and brought up in a home which had every luxury except the long-winded gas meter, yet he became one of the crookedest men in the Roman empire and died a brutal and unpleasant death.

Cataline was a man of great natural talent and might have succeeded in a declimated and he was roughly handled himself, being found prone on his stomach with several short Roman swords imbedded in his person, death being due to heart failure.

Cataline was married twice. He was disappointed in his first wife, who was a plain, homespun body, and he is accused of having poisoned her in the brusque and successful fashion of the times. History does not say anything about his second wife, but as he was away from home most of the time after the marriage ceremony it is presumed that retribution overtook him in two jumps.

Last Night's Dreams

—What They Mean

DID YOU DREAM ABOUT ADAM AND EVE?

AMONG the modern scientific dream investigators one school, led by Freud, regards all dreams as having for their primal source a wish, which wish may be lying dormant, as it were, in the "psychic" of the dreamer without his being conscious in his waking hours that he possesses it. Another school of which Havelock Willis may be taken as a representative, regards only a portion of our dreams as "wish dreams" while a third rejects the wish theory altogether.

The Freudian school would explain a dream of Adam and Eve as the coming to life in our dream consciousness of a longing for a return to the state of innocence and bliss of our first parents, for paradise, as an attempt of the dream ego to "come to the guarded gate and softly smuggle through where the wreath of Eve lies red on the turf as she left it long ago." Ellis would accept this explanation with doubt while others would declare that the dream was only a more or less distorted recollection of something which we had seen, heard or read during the day.

The mystics, however, rejecting the theories of the scientists, boldly proclaim the prophetic symbolism of the dream. To them to dream of Adam and Eve means many good things coming to you, including a birth in the family. Adam seems to play the principal part in this dream. Watch his face. If he has a good-natured look success is yours in love and business. To the farmer it means abundant crops and high prices. It would appear as if most farmers had had this dream of late. If you have a lawsuit on hand you will win. If Adam looks displeased he very cautious in your affairs, for others are seeking to do you mischief, though by being careful you will get the better of them. Don't take a sea voyage for a month or two.

Singularly enough, perhaps from an association of the birthplace of the human race with our own, this dream is an omen that success is coming to you in your native town and you should not leave it for other scenes of activity. If you are away from your native town return there; for there lies your fortune.

It is a good dream anyway whether a dream-fulfilled longing for paradise or an omen of home and prosperity. (Copyright.)

the automobile dentist officer used in France and other countries. Many of the cities provide dental service for their school children. Shall not our children in the country schools—future citizens and if necessity requires, defenders of our own republic—receive equally good dental care?

The establishment of effective habits of daily brushing and cleansing of the teeth is one of the most essential features in health teaching in the schools. Every child should have his own toothbrush, to be kept in a clean place and to be used immediately after eating, at least once, or better, twice a day.

For cleaning the teeth, a good tooth brush with bristles that do not easily break or pull out, should be used. The teeth should be brushed, not only up and down and across, but also by a rotary or circular motion from the gums of one jaw over the teeth to the gums of the other, and so round and round.

The Woods

TO A CAGED BIRD.

Voice of the forest, tongue by which it speaks
The throbbing gladness of its vernal time,
No more, no more, your rising pinion seeks
The heights sublime.

Voice of the forest, once your gay wings beat
Against the mountain diademed with stars;
Now do men bid you sing a song as sweet
To prison bars.

Only a singer that they, passing, heard
And then desired, like book and pipe and bowl—
Knowing nor caring when they cage a bird
They cage a soul.

IRISH THOROUGHBREDS HAVE WON ALL ENGLISH AND FRENCH RACES

Irish horses have won all the big races in England and France this year. Trovaton won the Grand National, Tetratena the Two Thousand, Spion Kop the English derby, Charlebelle the Oaks and Conrade the Grand Prix, the French classic.

The picture shows Spion Kop being led by his owner, Capt. Giles Loder, just after the horse had won the greatest racing event in the world, the derby at Epsom Downs. Spion Kop was considered a rank outsider, the odds being 100 to 6 against him, but Frankie O'Neill, the American jockey, seen astride him, piloted him to victory.

RIFLE GRENADE MAKES WORLD'S PACE RECORD

A new world's record for three-year-old pacing geldings was hung up at the Fort Miami track recently when Rifle Grenade, carrying the colors of the Lon McDonald stable, paced the first mile in 2:06.4, cutting a quarter of a second off the record held by Direct the Work, made at Lexington two years ago.

DISLIKES JEERING OF FANS

Ivan Olson, Peppery Dodger Shortstop, Resorts to Unique Method of Avoiding Criticism.

Ivan Olson, the peppery shortstop of the pennant-chasing Dodgers, sprang something new in the line of comedy in a game with the Pirates. Olson had been guilty of several misuses during recent games and was being ridden unmercifully by the fans. The jeers did not help him resume his normal stride, so he decided to equip himself so that he could not hear the comment from the stands if he hobbled. He stuffed both ears with big wads of cotton, which could be seen from one side of the field to the other and looked like a pair of beacon lights on his dome. Ivan kept them there the greater part of the game, making one error besides some good plays. He finally removed the decorations so that he could enter into conversation with the umpire.

BASEBALL TOUR IS PLANNED

Japanese Players Propose to Visit This Country Next Season—Enthusiastic Over Game.

A baseball tour on a large scale will be undertaken by Japanese players next spring and summer, according to plans now being formulated by prominent business men of that nation. At the same time an invitation will be extended to two leading teams in the United States to visit Japan. Prof. Fred Merrifield, who led the University of Chicago team on its recent tour of Japanese universities, is enthusiastic over the progress of baseball in the orient.

WISCONSIN FIGHTERS MAKING GOOD MONEY

Fans Paid $305,000 to See Boxers During Year.

Commission Has Managed Fistic Affairs so Well That State Has Received $15,841.91 in Taxes and Fees for Licenses.

During the fiscal year just closed, the seventh for legalized boxing in Wisconsin, fistic fans paid over $305,000 to see the mitt welders in action. The state received $15,841.91 in taxes and license money, more than twice enough to pay the expense of conducting the sport under the Hedding law. The commission has a balance of $28,100.75 in the state treasury, and it is the only commission under state supervision that is able to pay its own way.

There are 25 clubs in the state, and with the Elks' club and the American Legion posts taking an active interest in boxing, Chairman Walter H. Linger believes this number will be increased to 40 next season.

Since the state took over the supervision of boxing it has been kept on a high plane, and nearly all the commissions in the country are basing their rules on the principles of the Hedding law. Due to the exacting demands of the commission, which enforces every rule on its books, there has been little complaint from promoters or fans, but some fighters and managers, who have felt the brunt of the commission's fist, think otherwise.

About twenty-five managers and their fighters were suspended during the year, the majority for minor offenses. Two of them, Sammy Marino and George Adams, were set down for a year, when found guilty of participating in a sham bout at Fond du Lac. The three commissioners appointed when the Hedding law went into effect in 1913, Chairman Walter H. Linger, William C. Hart and Dr. W. C. Morter, still hold their positions, all of them having been reappointed, which proves they have used the power of their offices for the best interests of the game. Secretary Manning Vaughn, named when the commission was formed, also is still in office.

The commission made a hit with the newspapers when it ruled that press row seats must be used by the working press only. Visiting promoters and other celebrities are not allowed to occupy these chairs. If Jack Dempsey wishes to see a ring bout in Wisconsin, he cannot get nearer than the first row ringside.

STAR PLAYERS PLAN STRIKE

Certain Members of Playing Profession Organizing Union to Demand More Money.

Major league players who have been noting the great crowds at championship games are laboring under the delusion that they are overworked and underpaid. In spite of the fact that salaries are higher than ever this season, certain members of the playing profession are said to be organizing a union for the purpose of making a concerted demand for more money next winter.

It is understood that former directors of the defunct Players' fraternity are at the head of this movement, and that they have been working secretly to perfect the new organization for the past two months.

The magnates are wise to the situation, and are preparing for a struggle that may take the form of a general strike when new contracts are sent out. The players who are the ring leaders include some who have seen their best days.

ONE MORE YEAR FOR CHAMP

Benny Leonard recently celebrated his twenty-fourth birthday and at the same time announced that he would remain in the ring only one year more. In that time he intends to meet every challenger of any consequence and then retire to private life.

"BEAN BALL" RECORD

In view of Carl Mays' reputation for pitching the so-called "bean ball," it is well to turn to the American league records of 1919. Mays hit 16 batsmen last year, but Williams of the White Sox hit 11, Elmer Myers, 10; Sothoron, 10; Harper, Faber and Erickson, 8 each, and Walter Johnson, "Dutch" Leonard, Mogridge and Uhle, 7 each.

CARE OF CHILDREN'S TEETH IS IMPORTANT

THE examination, dental treatment and daily care of the teeth are matters of the greatest importance for all school children. All decayed teeth, whether temporary or permanent, should be filled or otherwise treated. Malocclusion (ineffective meeting) of the teeth should be remedied and can be corrected in early childhood.

It has been recently demonstrated that (in addition to daily brushing), the cleaning of the teeth of children every three to six months by a dentist or properly trained dental hygienist will prevent most of the decay of teeth which takes place.

It may be predicted with entire confidence that in the near future adequate dental care will be insured to all school children in the country as well as in the cities. No item in all the wonderful measures for the health care of the soldiers in the trenches of Europe was more significant than the treatment of the teeth provided by

HONEY DISHES.

The substitution of honey for sugar is not to be recommended, as the physical properties of honey are quite different from sugar. The following are tried recipes:

Cream Cookies.

Take one cupful of extracted honey, one pint of sour cream, a tablespoonful of soda, flavoring to suit the taste, and flour to make a soft dough. Chill well before rolling.

Tennessee Cookies.

Melt together one cupful each of honey and lard or butter. When cool add one-third of a cupful of sugar, a pinch of salt, a tablespoonful of soda and an egg. Add flour to make a stiff dough, roll and cut as usual.

Plum Butter.

Take four quarts of plums after being rubbed through a colander. Let the mixture come to a boil, then add one quart of honey, one quart of sugar, or two quarts of sugar, and boil until it crusts over the top when cool, or about 15 minutes. Stir frequently to keep from burning.

Raisin Cake.

Beat three eggs, add one cupful of honey, four tablespoonfuls of butter, one cupful of sweet milk, one and one-third cupfuls of raisins chopped, three cupfuls of flour, one-half teaspoonful of salt, the same of soda and two teaspoonfuls of baking powder, one teaspoonful of vanilla extract.

Sandwiches.

Cut bread as fresh as possible and spread with fresh butter, creamed; then spread with honey, sprinkle with nuts and put together as sandwiches.
